A strong patients' voice to drive better health in Europe

//SEPT 2017 ISSUE

Welcome to the latest issue of our Newsletter!

Our campaign on Access to Healthcare is swiftly approaching its end with the closing meeting planned for 6th of December in the European Parliament, Brussels! Please save the date. In the meantime, read the interview of MEP Sirpa Pietikäinen on why she decided to champion the campaign area on sustainable investment in healthcare systems. #Access2030

Earlier this year, we launched the EPF Breakfast Briefings, video podcasts on current policy topics and useful information for the capacity building of patient organisations. Open to EPF Members only, the live sessions are then made available via our YouTube channel, as on demand podcasts. See here a small recap of the first episodes and subscribe to our channel for more updates!

As always, EPF representatives have been very busy attending various meetings recently. Two were particularly interesting as they will be a stepping stone towards future EPF policy initiatives: a upcoming statement on nutrition and its role in diseases management; and the new initiative of the OECD on patient-reported outcomes and experiences, fostering a patient-centred culture for health systems performance assessment.

Some news to share as well on the project portfolio: time to end the PRO-STEP tender project with a final conference in Brussels on the 23rd and 24th of October; while CHRODIS Plus gets under way pursuing the activities undertaken by its predecessor CHRODIS.

The EPF Capacity Building Programme is going from strength to strength, with recent training sessions in Bulgaria where participants receive tailored information on how to set up coherent, transparent and sustainable fundraising plans.

Endorsed this year as a new member of EPF, the National Coalition of Disabled People of Greece takes on our 5 questions-interview, sharing their priorities and challenges as patient organisation.

This month our Blog hosts the beautiful story of Inge Vandellannoote, an IBD patient, on how valuable the relationship between patients and nurses can and should be.

Finally, some news regarding the EPF Youth Group, with Andreas Christodoulou (EPF Youth Group and cancer survivor) sharing his experience on attending the Young Cancer Europe congress; and some updates on the group itself: happy to welcome two new members and to gather soon for their autumn annual meeting in Leuven, Belgium!

Enjoy the reading!
